

DEPLORABLE CONDITIONS ARE SAID TO EXIST IN THE ADAMS COUNTY HOME

Unbelievable Charges Made By Aged Resident at Almshouse Against Those in Authority. Reliable Information Verifies His Statements.

OLD MAN CALLS IT "THE HOUSE OF STARVATION"

Resident of Almshouse Says He Has Been Unable to Sleep Because of Hunger. Popular Menu is Bread, Butter And Coffee. Dr. Dalbey to Resign as Physician.

That the inmates of the Adams county almshouse are suffering from lack of food, that their complaints have been received and subsequently ignored by the directors of the poor, and that a general deplorable condition exists at the county home is revealed by statements issued from reliable sources recently. These statements substantiate to a large degree the frequent rumors that have been circulating through the town concerning the administration of the almshouse located on the northeastern edge of Gettysburg. The content of the statements is sufficient to amaze the average citizen.

Lack of Harmony

For many months, according to the best information obtainable, the board of directors, steward, employees and other persons connected with the institution have shown lack of harmony toward one another. This lack of harmony, consequently resulting in neglected work and decreased interest in the welfare of the inmates at the institution, has proved detrimental to the health and comfort of the ninety persons housed in the almshouse.

Letters understood to have been received by some prominent men of the county as well as by the members of the Poor Board itself reveal the attitude of some of the older inmates toward existing conditions. Food of poor quality and little of that is the charge of the inmates.

Here is a letter just as written to the poor directors last August.

"Dear Sir: being about twelve years in this house I never had to make any complaint that I had not enough to eat but since last April I have suffered enough hunger in this house so that I am compelled to complain to you. many days I had only enough to live and often in night I suffered and could not sleep from hunger.

Has a Pauper a Soul?

"This county house was built and paid for by the tax payers of Adams county. it belongs to all to give the poor old people of Adams county a place where they had enough to eat and drink and where there was no dirty tricks to deprive the inmates of this home of their eating. the tax payers did not pay for such unhumanity. neither did God created men to die in the poor house of hunger. maybe a pauper has no soul to save.

"We are living under the finest glorious flag below the sun and be half starved. The poor you will be always with you and they will be the reason you will have to have a Steward who will try to run the expenses down by starving us so that he can show how much cheaper he can run the house. what a fine set of men you would be to reduce the national debt. old Fit ought to be Sec. to the Treasury. he

NAME SPEAKERS FOR INSTITUTES

Farm Meetings Will Be Reduced to One-Day Sessions in County.

County Chairman A. I. Weidner, of Arendtsville, who has charge of the farmers' institutes in the county, has received word that three well known Pennsylvania agriculturists have been selected to address the institutes in this county this year. They are A. D. Cromwell, West Chester; Sheldon W. Funk, Boyertown, and J. R. Stear, Bureau of Plant Industry, Harrisburg.

The institutes will be held at New Oxford December 20; Cashtown December 31 and Biglerville January 1. In an effort to curtail expenses the sessions this year have been reduced from two to one day by the Department of Agriculture. Many of the subjects that were scheduled to be discussed will have to be omitted but it is planned that questions of importance to the community will be brought up whether on the program or not.

The Department of Agriculture, the Adams County Farm Bureau and other agricultural organizations are co-operating to make the institutes a success.

LINCOLN WAY TO WEST SOON OPEN

Work of Concreting Has Been Stopped For The Winter.

ABOUT 11 MILES BUILT

Job Will Be Finished Next Summer. Contractors Made Record Despite Many Obstacles.

By the first of the year the Lincoln Highway between Gettysburg and Chambersburg ought to be open for travel for the winter, according to a statement by George Crawford, engineer in charge of District 6, of the State Highway Department, with headquarters here. Mr. Crawford said concrete work has been stopped until spring and with the exception of cleaning up the concrete and shaping a few shoulders the Mason and Hanger and Souder Construction firms have finished operations for the year.

Last week Mason and Hanger finished concrete work until winter passes. This firm, although experiencing many delays because of the scarcity of road building materials, slow freight movement and labor difficulties, has completed more than six miles of concrete highway. There is a two and a half mile stretch between the Laben Hershey farm and the Station road in McKnightstown that will not be built until next year.

Will Finish Next Year

This stretch has been graded roughly and the completion of the job will be the matter of only a few months. In order to allow through traffic during the winter this unimproved stretch will be repaired so that the short detour at this point will not be needed. Because of the fact that the top soil at certain places in this stretch has been excavated there will be times during the winter, it is believed, that travel over it will be difficult. The detour around this point is a short one. The worst stretch in the road will be just on this side the Marsh creek bridge.

Curtis E. Diehl, of New Oxford, had a narrow escape from injury on Monday evening when the truck he was driving skidded and plunged from the Lincoln Highway, turning over on its side. The accident occurred about a mile this side of Abbottstown. Mr. Diehl had turned out to pass a car going toward York and ran too near the edge of the road, it is believed. He was thrown from the truck but escaped uninjured.

Men from New Oxford came to the assistance of Mr. Diehl and the machine was hauled back on the road. It was able to proceed under its own power.

DECIDE TO OPEN NEW HOSPITAL

Efforts Now Being Made to Secure Head Nurse And Assistant.

HAVE PLAN TO FINANCE IT

Decision Influenced By Fact That Many Patients Are Waiting For Admittance.

The Annie M. Warner Hospital will be open for patients just as soon as a corps of nurses can be secured. This decision has been reached by the members of the board of directors, it has just been learned.

For the past week members of the board and physicians have been in communication with several hospitals in the state in an effort to employ a head nurse and an assistant. Until now the attempts have been unsuccessful but it is believed nurses will be secured and the opening day will be announced shortly afterward.

Members of the board have expressed the view that this is the only course of procedure to follow despite the fact that the endowment fund needed has not been raised. The sum subscribed by the people of Adams county, as previously announced, will amount to about $50,000. While the income from this amount will not finance the institution during the first year, those connected with the institution are of the opinion that with the aid of an appropriation from the State and the county sufficient money will be available to meet the expenses.

The action of the board has also been influenced by the fact that a number of patients are waiting for admittance to the hospital.

All Equipment In

All equipment necessary for the opening has been in place for some time with the exception of a few instruments and minor articles. Among this equipment was the large x-ray machine which is now in place and ready for operation.

In addition to the task of providing a staff of nurses, the physicians of the county have not elected a hospital staff nor has there been any definite plan decided upon by the medical men in regard to their connection with the institution.

In keeping with the high standard of equipment installed throughout the entire hospital is the powerful x-ray machine, the last instrument to be installed. This machine, which has been demonstrated since its installation is the best type of hospital x-ray on the market, physicians who have examined it say.

BORAH FOR CUT IN NAVAL BUILDING

Favors U. S. Joining Great Britain And Japan in Agreement.

RESOLUTION TO SENATE

Would Curtail Building Program 50 Per Cent in Five Years. Daniels Says It Would Be Crime.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 14—A resolution requesting the President to open negotiations with Great Britain and Japan for an agreement to reduce naval building programs fifty per cent for the next five years was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho.

When Senator Borah offered his resolution Secretary Daniels was before the House Navy Committee opposing such a proposal. "It would be almost equal to a crime," said the Naval secretary, "for the United States to enter into an alliance with any two or three nations either to suspend or curtail navy building or for any other purpose. It would certainly make for suspicion among the other nations of the world."

Senator Borah's resolution was referred to the foreign relations committee without debate.

STOCK REPORT

Heavy Dealings Feature Opening. Offerings Absorbed.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Dec. 14—Dealings in the stock market in the first hour today was almost as large as the heavy turnover of the previous day, but most offerings were freely absorbed. Contrary to expectations there was virtually no "cash" selling. Soft spots were motors, specialties, minor steels, coppers, Sears-Roebuck and People's gas at recessions of 1 to 2 1/2 points. Oils continued to feature the general rally at extreme gains of 2 to 5 points and shippings, equipment and rails of the better class also made further upward progress. Central of New Jersey recovered a large part of yesterday's 15 point loss. The market eased moderately before noon but in the main the tone remained firm. Call money opened at seven per cent.

SUMMER WEATHER NORTH

Low Temperatures Follow Heavy Rain. Warmer Than In South.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Dec. 14—New York today had normal winter temperature with Pensacola, New Orleans and other southern resorts. The morning weather observations for temperature in the south ranged from 46 to 54 degrees while here the thermometer read 56 to 60 degrees.

New York's warmth was due to the "pulling" influence of a storm which centered over Michigan, causing a "low" which threw balmy breezes northward. Gentle breezes and blue skies which guide book writers say go with winter resort temperatures were, however, conspicuously absent in New York.

A heavy rain driven by a sixty five miles an hour wind made out-of-door travel uncertain and unrelished.

WORLD COURT IS PART OF LEAGUE

Assembly Adopts Statute For International Court of Justice.

FIRST IMPORTANT ACT

Plan Proposed is Different From That of Elihu Root. Main Change is in Jurisdiction.

Geneva, Dec. 14.—The assembly accomplished Monday the first important constructive act in the work of the League of Nations in adopting a statute for a permanent International Court of Justice. The organization, as planned, still lacks the obligatory appearance of both parties to a dispute, and provides no penalty for non-compliance with the decisions of the Court.

The advocates of the project, however, believe that it is the most complete plan that could be accepted by the different Governments, and are confident that the good will of the nations will remedy its defects. The plan will now go to the different States for ratification.

If 22, or a majority of the members of the League approve it before the next meeting of the assembly, the Judges will be elected, and the Court will come into existence in the month of September.

Urges Obligatory Jurisdiction

The adoption of the plan came after an oratorical duel, with Latin America on one side and Europe on the other, over the question as to whether the jurisdiction of the International Court ought to be obligatory or voluntary. Raoul Fernandez, Brazil; Dr. Carlos Druetta, Colombia; Harmodio Arias, Panama; Aristides Aguerre, Cuba; Senor Blanco, Uruguay and Senor Aramayo, Bolivia, insisted with great force upon the necessity of obligatory jurisdiction to make the Court really effective.

Some of the speakers made reference to the small majority in the committee which had forced a large minority to bend to its will. It was also declared that the big Powers had used their greater influence to defeat the most important features of the measure. The greater number of the 15 speakers were skeptical as to the value of optional jurisdiction as provided for in the project.

Europeans Defend Plan

Leon Bourgeois, France; A. J. Balfour, England; Dr. George F. Hagerup, Norway, and Giuseppe Motta, Switzerland, defended the plan as the best that could be set up for a beginning. Mr. Balfour also made a defense of Europe against what he termed "a united attack."

No country, he said, had been more strongly in favor of arbitration than Great Britain. He argued that it was necessary to make a beginning. The whole project might be rendered inoperative if that beginning were not made with due regard for certain realities.

Though the debate could not change the viewpoint of the majority, it served to relieve the feelings of the delegates, which had reached a high pitch in the long discussion in committee.

Differs From Root Proposal

The plan as proposed to the assembly by the committee differs in some respects from the plan formulated by Elihu Root and his associates who met last summer for the purpose of putting the ideas regarding the formation of the court into shape. The chief difference is in the matter of jurisdiction.

The committee agreed with the decision of the League's council at Brussels that it would be impossible to get the necessary number of ratifications by members for a plan permitting an aggrieved nation to cite another nation into court, and it was decided to substitute a more flexible plan, under which a member may agree or not agree to compulsory arbitration.

NEW YORK — Lady Lillian Maxwell Willshire has turned to the stage to earn a living because, as she says, she and her husband, a British baronet, are "broke." She is appearing in "Afgar," and is reported to be getting $40 a week. "The war has turned things topsyturvy," she says. "Many English families have lost their money—profiteers have much of it."

UNION WORKERS GUARD PLANTS

Arrests Made in Clothing Labor War. New York Shops Crippled.

New York, December 14.—Skirmish lines of pickets drawn from the ranks of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union, faced by guards alleged to have been hired by the clothing manufacturers, were the most salient features in Monday's developments of the clothing labor dispute, which has closed or crippled most of the large factories in the city.

Police were active in making arrests of union workers, who were charged with violations of city ordinances. Out of a total of more than 100 arrests, all were discharged except twenty, who were held for trial. These men later were discharged with a warning against obstructing the streets.

Union officials Monday insisted again that the trouble between the union and manufacturers had resulted in a lockout. They pointed out that cutters had been offered work, but that tailors and machine operators and pressers had been denied employment. Union men expressed the opinion that this action by the manufacturers was absolute proof that the manufacturers were endeavoring to have the work begun here, so that it might be sent out of town for completion. Union leaders predicted that this plan of the manufacturers would be nullified by working agreements now in force between the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union and out-of-town manufacturers.

The new piece-work schedules, which are expected to result in the resumption of manufacturing in several plants, were not announced Monday.

SUGGEST PLAN TO CUT TAXATION

Funding Into Long-Term Bond of Present Certificates Advocated.

DEMOCRAT HAS PROTEST

Says Refunding Plan Would be Breach of Faith With People. Fordney Makes Sharp Reply.

Washington, December 14.—Concern of the congressional leaders as to ability of the Treasury to meet the $7,500,000,000 of war debts maturing within the next two and a half years was indicated by Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means Committee, Monday both in the House and at the opening of hearings by his committee on the revision of revenue legislation.

The Ways and Means Committee chairman frankly expressed doubt as to whether the estimate of a $4,000,000,000 annual tax levy would be sufficient to meet the requirements of the government over the period of maturing Treasury certificates and Victory notes. As a solution he advocated refunding into long-term bonds of the certificates now aggregating $2,350,000,000, as well as of the first issue of war saving stamps and the Victory note issue.

Would Cut Houston Estimate

Adoption of such a solution, Mr. Fordney declared, probably would enable a reduction of taxes below Secretary Houston's estimate of $4,000,000,000. He also, he said, would permit a tax levy for several years sufficient only to cover current fiscal needs of the government and interest on the public debt and sinking fund operations.

The first witness before the committee at the tax revision hearing, however, disagreed with Mr. Fordney on the proposal. In reply to questions by Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, Dr. Thomas S. Adams, Treasury tax expert and economist, said the program of the Treasury appeared to provide sufficient revenues to take care of the maturing obligations except the Saving Stamps, which would be paid through the sale of other issues of such stamps as each yearly issue comes due. He added, however, that the Treasury estimates for taxation could stand no reduction if the program was to be carried through and the maturing obligations met.

Democrat Protests

Politics entered into the discussions of the methods of paying off the War debt when the committee reached the subject later in the day. Representative Garner (Democrat), of Texas, vigorously opposed the Fordney suggestion, saying it meant that the government was "breaking faith with the people whom it had assured that it would take up the floating debt to make the Liberty bonds retain their proper level of market value. "To float another loan," Mr. Garner asserted, "would materially weaken the quotation of the Liberty bond prices."

"When we passed those loan bills and tax measures, we told the people certain things," Mr. Garner continued. "We surely cannot go back on those assurances. It would be breaking faith with the people."

Fordney Hits Democrats

"Well," Mr. Fordney countered, "those things were the work of the Democratic administration. That floating debt was the product of the Democratic administration. But inasmuch as we have it, it has now become an obligation of the Republican party and I mean to do all I can to get rid of it without burdening our people with taxation."

WOMAN DEPUTY RESIGNS POST

Treated Like Dog, She Says. Quit to Save Self-Respect.

New York, December 14.—Mrs. Ellen A. O'Grady, deputy police commissioner of New York city, Monday resigned, asserting that she had been hampered in her work and could not remain in her place and retain her self-respect.

Her action followed attacks on the efficiency of the department made by several newspapers.

Mrs. O'Grady, who said she had handed Police Commissioner Enright her badge and announced she was "leaving," in a statement to the press, charged that she had been "treated like a dog" by the Commissioner since January 1919, when she and her women "tried to arrest men in his office for outrageous treatment to girls."

Commissioner Enright, when asked to make a statement concerning Mrs. O'Grady's resignation, denied categorically about everything unpleasant the former woman deputy had said when she tendered her resignation.

"Mrs. O'Grady did not resign," the commissioner added, "she just bounced into my office, threw her police shield on my desk and said 'I am through.' Before I had time to ask her what it was all about she left the place."

Mrs. O'Grady, who declared she had "a thousand and one things to tell about the police department later on," said in her statement:

"I have been told that my work is 'too strenuous' looking after the morals of girls in moving picture houses, and told to 'go slow.'"

Showed Them Receipts

"When my detectives went to enforce the law in a number of moving picture houses the managers showed them receipts, stating that they had contributed to the police hospital fund, and they had been promised that no police action would be taken against them."

BILLION OUTSTANDING

Treasury Department Unable To Audit Returns.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 14.—The Treasury Department's estimate that "more than a billion dollars" is outstanding in unpaid taxes because of the government's inability to audit the returns, Dr. Thomas S. Adams, of the treasury staff, testified today at a hearing on taxation before the House Ways and Means Committee. Because of the complex nature of present revenue laws, Dr. Adams added, the internal revenue bureau has been unable to complete the checking up of tax returns for 1917. He saw no immediate hopes of making the audit current with the tax returns filed.

ECKERT SHOE and STOCKING STORE

I bought nice dress shoes for Mrs. Santa, warm felt house-slippers for Grandpa and Grandma.

Overgaiters and silk stockings for that oldest girl of mine! Boudoir slippers for the next one, Indian Moccasins for that Tom-boy girl, and cute little blue slippers for the kid. And then I bought the biggest boy a pair of sporty shoes.

And the next fellow leggings and arctics, the one that walks back and forth to school will like those high top shoes, and the little tacker will see if he can get snow in the tops of those high top boots. I got felt-boots for the man that takes care of the reindeer.

They have just about everything in leather, and felt and rubber footwear that you can imagine—spats, stockings, laces, polishes, leggings, too. Footwear of all kinds for every member of the family. The prices are lower than they were, and I know my folks will all be pleased—SANTA CLAUS.

VANDERLIP BUYS TOWN TO REFORM IT!

NEW YORK—To rid the town of undesirable residents, Frank Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank of New York, has purchased the entire village of Sparta, N. Y. Sparta, a town of 200 inhabitants, adjoins the fashionable colony of Scarborough-on-Hudson, where Vanderlip lives. Much complaint had come from the wealthy residents of Scarborough about Sparta. So Vanderlip solved the problem by buying the entire village! He says he'll gradually weed out the undesirables, build modern tenements and "get some nice people" to settle there. The picture shows some of the ramshackle dwellings of Sparta. Inset, Vanderlip.

The boundary line between Adams and Franklin counties into Fayetteville has also quit work for the winter. This firm succeeded in completing about five miles of concrete. They have approximately five miles more to construct. Travelers to Chambersburg this winter will find more than fifteen miles of concrete road between here and the Franklin county seat.

Work Was Rushed

When the contracts for improving the Lincoln Highway were let by the State Highway Department last winter many predicted it would require three years to complete the work and that Gettysburg would be cut off from the west during the summer for three seasons. More than half of the job has been completed in one season that brought with it many obstacles and road men believe this highway will be finished before fall next year.

With the road connecting Gettysburg with Washington now practically completed and prospects for opening the Lincoln Highway west sometime in the summer of 1921 business men especially interested in the summer tourist trade are complimenting the construction firms and the State Highway Department on the efficient manner in which the work was handled.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—H. C. May, general manager of the Monon Railroad, was called by the coroner Monday in an effort to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Minnie Viola Reynolds, a wealthy young widow, whose body was found in her gas-filled apartment Saturday.

Papers, letters and telegrams found in the flat and bearing the names of H. C. May and Mrs. H. C. May, and reports to the police by a garage proprietor that he knew Mrs. Reynolds as Mrs. May and that he sent her monthly bills to Mr. May, at the Monon office here, resulted in the result that Mr. May attended the inquest Monday.

MINE WORKERS IN SESSION

Interest Centers in The Election of Officers.

Pittsburgh, December 14.—Interest among miners of this section in the district and national election of officers of the United Mine Workers of America which was held today centered in the election of the vice president. The contest between John L. Lewis, of Indianapolis, and Robert H. Marlin, of Seattle, for the chief executive position was forgotten momentarily in the race of Phillip Murray, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Alexander Howat, of Pittsburg, Kan., for the vice presidency.

Murray for several months, has been conducting negotiations with the anthracite coal operators to secure for the hard coal workers wages increase equal to that recently granted the bituminous miners. Howat, since the great coal strike was called in 1919, and which the union was enjoined from putting into effect, has been at variance several times not only with union officials but with the federal authorities.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

NERVE-SPEED WHEN NEEDED

Lack of Reserve Force Cause of Most Failures in the Daily Affairs of Life.

To feel weary without having earned it with hard work throws the mind into disorder and confusion.

Not Exactly This But Near It Is the Too Often Experience of Many Men.

A hundred people describing their weary condition would each tell it differently. One can't think, another is drowsy, the next feels weak, others are irritable, moody, depressed, apprehensive, as the case may be. To this great class of sufferers comes Reolo, one of the grandest reconstructive agencies ever devised for definite accomplishment. It intensifies the activity of the vital processes, provokes increased flesh, stimulates the production of red corpuscles, contributes to the defense of the system against depletion and consequent exhaustion and in many other ways arouses the functional processes to make you feel that something has touched that one flickering vital spark youthfulness was about to go out. No amount of description can adequately convey the difference between the feeling of lack of nerve speed and the rebound, the freedom, the liberation from depressions that cause so many men and women to fall in their tracks, to go to sleep at the switch or stand still when the order is to go ahead. If you would really like to get acquainted with your real self get a $1.00 box of Reolo today. Ask any of the clerks at Peoples Drug Store or any other leading drug store.

HIGH MAINTAINS PAST RECORDS

Football Team Turns in Good Scores. Will Lose Stars.

Although they turned in a season record inferior to last year's team the High School football season was a decided success. Out of nine games played they have been victorious in six and amassed a total of 234 points against the enemy's 77.

On a schedule that represented in every case schools of larger size than the York street institution the locals turned in wins against Camp Curtin, Frederick, Shippensburg, Chambersburg High School and Gettysburg and Harrisburg Academies while defeats were sustained in the hands of Shippensburg Normal, York High and Scotland Industrial School.

The record is all the more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that the average weight of the team is only 155 pounds and that there are ten men on the Varsity squad of seventeen that are playing for the first time and of these five were on the first eleven that started the games.

The success of the team can be readily traced to the same reason that accounted for the success of the champion team last year, their team-work. Taking hold of a team that has lost six regulars by graduation and filling five of those places with men who never played before and then to turn out a machine that could win two-thirds of its games and hold Shippensburg Normal School to three touchdowns and York High to a field goal is the achievement of Coach Walter D. Reynolds, who is really the man behind the gun. It was he that in the last two years of football success at High School instilled a unity of play in the teams that made them invincible against schools of their size and enabled them to conquer eleven of institutions five or six times their superiors in size and number.

Captain George Hunter, fullback, and the greatest football player that ever carried a pig-skin across the high school goal line, playing his fourth year for High School, was the star of the season.

Brady Armor, quarterback, playing for the first year, showed rare judgment in calling signals and directing the attack of the local machine. He proved to be an exceptional good open field runner and tallied more touchdowns than any other player, having twelve to his credit.

Walter Leister, left end, appearing in the high school lineup for the second season, earned the distinction of being the best end ever produced at the local school. Last year he played tackle, so end playing was strange to him this year. He is a member of the Senior Class.

Paul Mehring, in his second year of football, proved a good running mate to Leister on the left side of the line. His strong game proved valuable on the defensive and was greatly responsible for the success of the offensive plays through tackle. He will also be lost by graduation.

Donald Lower, right guard, playing for his first time, displayed the real fight at his position that captured for him a permanent berth early in the season.

J. Grayson Peters, right tackle, playing for his fourth year, was the most experienced man on the line and the real life of the team. His injury of a broken ankle in midseason weakened considerably the defense of the team.

Clifford Bream, center, in his initial year, played a game that made fans forget about former centers. His chief quality is the fight and pep that he shows while in the game and his playing on both the defense and offense.

Bernard Gordon, half-back, in his second year as Varsity player, had the best season of his career. He shows up best on the defense although he exhibited class in carrying the ball. David Oyler, half back, in his second year proved a slippery proposition for opposing tacklers. Besides being fast and hard to tackle he displayed judgment in end runs and proved an able running mate to Hunter and Armor.

Herbert Raymond, left guard, in his fourth year of football played the best game of his career. His mighty work on the defense kept many an enemy runner from going through and greatly braced the line. The 1921 team, of which he is captain, will be built around him.

Wilbur Weikert, right end, playing his first year of Varsity ball, displayed great ability in running with the ball and also at end playing.

Individual scoring records for touchdowns and goals are: Hunter 9 touchdowns, 28 goals out of 31 attempts for a total of 82 points. Armor 12 touchdowns for 72 points; Oyler 4 touchdowns for 24 points; Weikert 5 touchdowns for 30 points; Miller 2 touchdowns and 2 goals out of 3 for 14 points; Musselman 1 touchdown for 6 points and Robert 1 touchdown for 6 points.

GREETINGS, PETE!

CAMEL CITY—U. S. A.
(or, Winston-Salem, N. C. according to the map)

Here I am tonight in Winston-Salem where more tobacco is manufactured than in any other place on the face of the earth!

When I knocked off for the day, I buzzed around like a hungry bee in a buckwheat field—up and down long streets of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories!

As the Reynolds enterprise proved out more and more gigantic and I talked with more men about it, I got the real and true answer as to why Camels are so good and so entirely different from any other cigarette! I'll spin it for you, old top—listen:

Every man I talked with made the one big point that the officials and the more than 350 Reynolds foremen have an inborn knowledge of the tobacco business; that (putting it into a North Carolina expression) they were virtually "born and raised in a tobacco patch"; that they know tobacco; how to grade it, blend it, and how to manufacture and sell it!

And, what's most important of all, Pete, these Reynolds folks sure give men what they want—the best that can be produced! Why—Pete, it took months to perfect Camels Turkish and Domestic blend—and that refreshing flavor—and wonderful mild, mellow body!

Tomorrow, I'm going to meet some of the Reynolds folks. Got to see inside of those factories!

And, you know me!

FEWER NIGHTS OUT FOR STUDENTS

Hagerstown Parents Oppose Mid-Week Parties And Radical Dressing.

The first step toward abolishing kalsomined complexions, an epidemic of which prevails among girl students of the public schools in Hagerstown, midweek parties, unchaperoned outings and unsuitable dress, were considered at a patrons' meeting held at the Broadway High School in that city recently.

The first step toward abolishing these disturbing influences was taken when the subject of closer co-operation between parent and teacher to increase efficiency was discussed. A proper standard for dress, simplicity instead of extravagance, more nights during the week for study and fewer social engagements, and a proper chaperonage by parents at class parties were some of the important things parents should demand of their daughters, Mrs. J. J. Porter, demanded.

The Rev. Scott R. Wagner, pastor of Zion Reformed Church, said week-night engagements of girls is a serious handicap to their educational progress and he suggested that the parents unionize to stop all frivolity that interferes with study. Mrs. E. H. Zeigler suggested the co-education play as a solution to the problem, claiming that it would automatically solve the question of mid-week parties and outings.

drivers against overstepping, but these were ignored.

The joke of the day occurred when several prominent Camp Hill men who had urged Council to take this step were rounded up among those who had gone beyond the speed limit.

ELECTED PASTOR

Rev. B. K. Mowrer, who was recently admitted to the Adams County Lutheran Conference, was on Sunday elected to the pastorate of the Mt. Carmel Lutheran church. The charge is composed of Mt. Carmel church, near Jacobs Mills and St. Paul's church in New Baltimore. The former pastor, Rev. S. A. Diehl, relinquished the charge about a year ago by reason of ill health.

"I understand," began Biggs in the tone of a man who is fishing for an invitation, "that you're home brewing and that you call the stuff the Horn of Plenty brand. What's the idea?" "Oh," replied Biggs in the tone of a man who doesn't intend to issue an invitation, "because it will corn you copiously."—Savannah News.

Just What Everyone Wants For Just What You Want to Pay

The buying of Christmas gifts is so much more satisfying this year than it has been for a long time.

Our stocks are so complete. So many things are now here in plentiful supply that have been scarce or absent altogether during the recent years—and then—

PRICES ARE SO MUCH LOWER THAN THEY HAVE BEEN!

Perhaps you're not able to decide on what to buy for several friends. Perhaps you're deciding on something that isn't the best thing to buy, for somebody. Maybe it's because you haven't had your ideas stimulated by seeing the many things to choose from that an inspection of our store would bring to your attention.

It's really wonderful how many things there are that would delight you in the giving and the friend in the receiving, that you haven't even thought of!

That's why all of us need to see as much as we can, during these busy gift-seeking days, and that is why our store is so helpful.

Come and let us solve your Christmas problems, with best gifts for everybody.

A Christmas Romance

By Mary Graham Bonner

ARJORIE was the first girl every boy called on when he got home for the Christmas holidays. Yes, every boy who had gone away to school or to college always came to Marjorie's house first when the Christmas holidays began, though there were exceptions, of course.

Many of them, coming home at the same time, on the same train, would agree to call together.

Then they would have a good time, singing, talking, laughing. Marjorie was such a good sort. The whole "bunch" liked her.

She played the piano well for dancing and had the kind of voice which made others want to gather around the piano and join in the chorus.

In truth, without Marjorie the "bunch" would have been oftentimes very lonely, very restless and wretched. Marjorie danced well, too, and if one wanted a girl to come up to a prom or a class dance Marjorie would always fit in anywhere. Then, too, she wouldn't be mad if a fellow asked another girl.

Marjorie was an exceptional girl. Marjorie wasn't jealous of any of them. She seemed to regard them as they regarded her—good sorts as she was a good sort. They passed the time for her merrily as she did for them.

They were jolly good companions as she was a jolly good companion.

So it went on. And another Christmas came along and Marjorie's house was the center of the gaiety.

It was the night before Christmas. The "bunch" were taking around their Christmas presents. They were going to call on Marjorie last because then they would stay there for a while. They all had presents for Marjorie, typical presents from members of a "bunch" to a friend of the "bunch."

There were several boxes of candy (which the "bunch" would help eat), and there were some books, which perhaps some of the "bunch" later would borrow and read.

One of the "bunch" has gone to Marjorie's earlier that evening, and had taken with him a present which could neither be divided and eaten, nor borrowed and read.

Soon, soon he was going to give it to her, and soon he hoped to see her wear it.

"Marjorie," he began, "the other fellows all like you, of course, but you know I've been feeling for some time kind of differently about things. And before I went back to college again I thought perhaps—you know—I thought Christmas eve would be such a nice time to look back upon when we had grandchildren as our engage—"

The front door burst open after a quick and vigorous knocking, and the "bunch" came in.

"What! You here, Jim! Stole a march on us, eh?"

They gave their presents to Marjorie. Then they asked her to play the piano. Then they sang. Nervously Jim looked at his watch. It was almost Christmas day—and he so much wanted to be able to look back on Christmas eve as the time of his engagement, and somehow he had fancied Marjorie looked upon him a little more affectionately than upon the rest. Finally he could bear it no longer.

"I say, fellows," he began, "it seems to me that as long as the 'bunch' wants to hang around the best friend the 'bunch' ever had and won't give any one fellow any more chance than another I'll just have to do my proposing before the whole 'bunch'."

"I've got a little ring here I'd like Marjorie to wear, and while I always want to be one of the 'bunch' and she always wants to be a 'friend of the bunch,' I know, I'd like to have her regard me as more than just a friend."

"And I'd like to be more than a friend to one of the 'bunch,'" Marjorie said.

"Congratulations!" shouted the "bunch." "And Merry Christmas and lots of them!"

"But to think," one of the "bunch" said to the rest afterward, "that one of us was able to 'put it over' on the rest of us—and Marjorie, too!"

And the next day, which was Christmas, the "bunch" all came around to see one of the "bunch" kiss the "friend of the bunch" under the mistletoe, which favor was granted the "bunch"—very willingly.

The wisest man may always learn something from the humblest peasant. J. P. Senn.

STRANGE POISONING!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called "An-uric"—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you should obtain "Anuric" at the drug store; or send Dr. Pierce 10c for trial package. "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia.

D. W. Griffith Presents

"The Love Flower"

In producing this picture Mr. Griffith has departed somewhat from his usual plan, not having sought an unusual and even morbid theme with which to display his genius in dramatic construction, but has taken a simple heart interest story of an exile on a South Sea Island and his beautiful young daughter and made a simple romance that ends as we all like to have our pictures end, with the hero, this time handsome talented Dick Barthelmess, marrying the pretty winsome leading lady, in this picture, Carol Dempster, one of Mr. Griffith's latest finds.

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest scientists says that more than 90% of all human ills can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this?

Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right to-day to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant drugging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. And NR does this without a sign of griping, pain or unpleasantness. It works gently, but promptly and thoroughly. In a few days you notice the real result. You begin to feel that you are living again, with new strength, new energy, vim and pep and ginger. You soon find your bowels acting regularly without help. Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

ANSWER THIS PUZZLE

Win Ford Sedan or $800

The operator of the movie machine in this theater decided to play a joke on his audience, so he threw these re-arranged "Movie Players" names on the screen.

To solve the Movie Puzzle, all you are required to do is to rearrange the letters, so that they will spell the correct actors or actresses names. No. 10 is Charlie Chaplin. If you can guess all ten you can win FORD Sedan or $800.

Probably you know the names of most of the famous players, but just to refresh your memory, we mention below the names of a few of the most popular "movie" players:

Charlie Chaplin, Charles Ray, Mary Pickford, Thomas Meighan, Dustin Farnum, Theda Bara, Douglas Fairbanks, Blanche Sweet, Mahlon Norman, Marguerite Clark, Pearl White, Fatty Arbuckle, Wallace Reid, Beverly Bayne, William Farnum, Alice Brady, Gloria Swanson, Anita Stewart.

ONLY 185 "POINTS" WINS AUTO

For each name that you arrange correctly, you will receive 10 "Points" toward the FORD Sedan, or 100 "Points" in all. If you arrange all names correctly, you can win $800 more "Points" by "Qualifying" your answer. That is, by proving that you have shown a copy of our paper, The Rural Weekly, to five people. The final 25 "Points" will be awarded by three independent judges on the nearest, right, handwriting, and spelling of your answer.

The answer gaining 185 "Points" (which is the maximum) will win the FORD Sedan, or $800 in cash. Second highest will win a $200 photograph, and so on down the list of 25 big prizes. In case of a tie, both winners will receive same prize. Send in your answer TODAY. As soon as your answer is received, samples will be sent FREE, to assist you in qualifying.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY—YOU CAN WIN.

You will not be asked to subscribe to The Rural Weekly, nor spend one penny in order to win. We have given away over 100 autos. You may be the next lucky winner. Write your answer to the Puzzle on one side of the paper, name and address in upper right hand corner. You can win—Answer the puzzle now.
